KELLY MEG BRENNAN

Kelly is a committed, diverse creator and performer. From operas to plays to her own devised work, she brings great passion and dedication to arriving at the truth of each character and performance moment whether embodying an aria of heartache, or lobbing sarcastic comebacks in a farcical play. Rooted in appreciation of the myriad personal qualities of those around her, Kelly has a keen sense of empathy and kinesthetic understanding, which has enabled her to portray a colorful assortment of 50 + characters in a range of professional venues over the past 21 years. Theater allows us to open our understanding of our shared humanity; it shows the world from another's perspective and invites you on their journey. Kelly holds an MFA-IA and has taught voice and theater at Buffalo State College as well as in her private studio.
